

James R. Rieger
Vice President
Fixed Income Indices

James R. Rieger is vice president, fixed income indices, at S&P Indices. With over 30 years of fixed income experience, J.R. leads S&P Indices' effort to reach into areas of the capital markets beyond traditional equity, overseeing the creation and management of fixed income indices.

S&P Indices has launched a variety of fixed income indices under J.R.'s management, which includes a focus on transparency for municipal bonds, leveraged loans, commercial paper, sovereign debt, credit default swaps and most recently a family of indices for the Australian bond market.

J.R. speaks regularly on various performance benchmarking and attribution topics relating to distressed debt, structured finance, municipal bonds, credit default swaps, and leveraged loans. His research has been cited in national publications and he has been a guest on CNBC's Squawk Box and Bloomberg News. Leading the way in S&P Indices' digital space, J.R. currently hosts "The Rieger Report," a weekly podcast providing a municipal bond market recap available on iTunes and www.SPindices.com/munis.

Prior to joining S&P Indices, J.R. was vice president, global evaluations, at Standard & Poor's Securities Evaluations, Inc. Active in the financial community, J.R. is a member of the Municipal Bond Club of New York, New York Society of Security Analysts, Municipal Analysts Group of New York, and the National Federation of Municipal Analysts.

J.R. holds a B.S. from Widener University and an MBA from Adelphi University.
